

Monologue Resources

The best way to find a monologue is to read and see lots of plays. That way you have the full context of the character and circumstances for the monologue. I understand that can take a lot of time so I've compiled here a list of websites that have monologues appropriate for young actors. Please take the time to read through a couple of them so you can choose a monologue that interests and excites you!

Short Monologues

<https://www.stagemilk.com/monologues-for-kids/>

Monologues from plays for young actors

<http://monologuearchive.com/children.html>

Huge database. Can search by gender, length, style, and period

<https://stageagent.com/monologues/browse/kids>

52 monologues with blurbs about each one

<https://monologueblogger.com/52-effective-short-monologues-for-teens-and-kids/>

Another huge database where you can search by author, genre, age range and even themes and keywords

<https://www.backstage.com/monologues/teens/>